

CAMAS' FOURTH Avenue has changed some over the years as is shown through this progression of photographs. The paper mill is shown in the background, but many of the other old businesses have changed names, owners, or have closed entirely.

